Golf's Moment to Lead

With 40,000 living landscapes and 250 million fans, the sport holds untapped potential to champion nature and support communities, while also strengthening the game's reputation and resilience in a changing world.

The golf industry is varied, with disconnected efforts and approaches. To unlock its potential and become a global leader in sport and a valued contributor to environmental and social progress, the game needs coordinated action - for impact that is more than the sum of the parts - something the Foundation is uniquely positioned to deliver.

Sustainable Golf Impact Fund

The Foundation is fundraising to scale golf's local to global impact. Your support will help:

- Align Action: Inspire and support tours, clubs, golf bodies, professional players and industry suppliers to address challenges and opportunities.
- Protect Nature & Empower Communities: Provide tailored guidance and resources to clubs worldwide to support biodiversity, conserve resources and strengthen local communities.
- Scale Innovation & Leadership: Share resources, deliver programs, digital tools, and impact measurement systems that establish golf as a global leader for positive change.

Help shape golf's future.
Build a resilient sport that benefits people and nature.

Supporters can access unique golf experiences, player ambassadors, company recognition and more.
