Support for sustainable events

OnCourse® Tournaments is a trusted and practical program developed by the golf industry to bring sustainability into greater focus and integrate it into event operations. The flexible program is relevant to those at the very start of their journey, providing the basics and building year-on-year, as well as those further along, supporting innovation and industry-leading practice. From the planning to post-event reporting and recognition, OnCourse gives tournament teams the guidance and tools needed to generate and communicate meaningful results and provides a pathway to becoming a GEO Certified® tournament.

Some of the world's most iconic golf tournaments are collaborating with GEO Foundation to drive sustainability in and through golf - making a difference, enhancing their brands, and strengthening their connection to partners, fans and local communities.
Recognition via golf’s international sustainable tournament certification:

OnCourse connects seamlessly to the requirements and process to become a GEO Certified Tournament. Via OnCourse you will receive early advice about your readiness for, and when to move into, 3rd party verification for this certification.

Internationally accredited and backed up by robust reporting, GEO Certified is the widely recognized standard for sustainable golf tournaments and provides the assurance to support your communications.

The international voluntary sustainability standard for golf tournaments covers a range of disciplines relevant to hosting a golf tournament.
